

ALEXANDRIA.

SATURDAY EVENING, JULY 7.

A FEW days before the Chicago convention Mr. Ingalis wrote a letter in which he said Mr. Harrison "had an awkward record on the tariff, the currency, the Chinese question, etc." Mr. Ingalls was much nearer the truth when he wrote that letter than he was when he was giving his testimony to an investigating committee of the U.S. Senate respecting the bribery by means of which he obtained his first election to a seat in the Senate. But, nevertheless, Mr. Harrison will receive the full vote of his party. Men's votes nowadays are not influenced by the political record, or even by the personal character of those who want them. For tunately for the country, it was not so in the earlier and better days of the republic.

Ir now looks as if the widely-heralded anticipated extensive lockout in the Pennsylvania iron industry was only one of the numerous means the protected iron manufacturers of that State have resorted to in order to stay the action of the U. S. House of Representatives in passing the much desired bill for the reduction of the tariff. What the sole beneficiaries of the tariff, the proprietors of the protected industries and their agents, don't know about working up popular feeling in their behalf, is'nt worth knowing. But for all that, their schemes are so transparently selfish that the most obtuse voter should be able to see through

ON THE first of the month the democrats of l'etersburg took possession of the municipal government, the fire department along with the other branches. Two or three days afterwards when one of the engines was taken out to be tested it was discovered that it had been tampered with and was unfit for service. Had a fire occurred in the meantime, and its extinguishment been left to that particular engine, the damage might have been great. The spirit that actuated the crime referred to would have destroyed the city, if it could have done so without detection. Those guilty of itshould informed of what Col. Ingersoll said, as rebe found out and prosecuted to the utmost extent of the law.

Some of the strikers on the Burlington and Quincy Railroad have just been arrested for conspiring to ir jure the property and personnel of that road by the use of dynamite, packages of which were found in their possession. An almost necessary incident of strikes is a resort to violence on the part of some of the most ignorant, vicious, and reckless of the parties engaged in them. The mejority, certainly the wise ones, among the strikers probably contemn such acts as much as anybody else, but as people are judged by the company they keep, they have, in the estimation of the public, to hear the blame of their criminal associates.

Ir is stated that Mr. Randall, between whom and the President an entire estrangement now exists, is perfectly satisfied with his own course, and thinks the President's course will result in the latter's defeat next November, and that that defeat will demonstrate the fact that he, Randall, is right and the President wrong. Mr. Randall, it is reported, is in receipt of hundreds of letters from Northern democrats commending him for the part he has taken in opposition to the President. All this shows the greater necessity on the part of the President's friends for extra work from now until the day of election.

ACCORDING TO newspaper reports a great change has come over the spirit of Mr. Sherman's views on the subjects of the tariff and "rebels" since the Chicago convention, and that he now says the war is over, the country's objects are national and not sectional, and that the tariff should not collect more money than is actually required the circle and the women throwing the ball for the economical administration of the government. This is an eminently commendable change, and for the good of the country it is hoped it may be permanent

No TRUE friend of the original free and equal institutions of the country need vote against the re election of Mr. Cleveland on the ground of his carnest support of the class and unequal civil service law and civil service rules, for his contestant, Mr. Harri son, is, or rather was a few years ago, and has said or done nothing since to show that he is not now, just as pronounced an advocate of those arrent and transparent hum-

From Washington

[Special Correspondence of the Alexs. GAZETTE. WASHINGTON, D. C., July 7, 1888.

In talking about the numerous private sension bills the President has vetoed this ession, a Northern republican congressman, said to the GAZETTE'S correspondent this morning, that no man really entitled to a pension has any fault to find with Mr. Cleveland for such vetoes, as it is well known that the pension bureau is manned by re republicans who have previously examined all such claims and reported against them. He said he knew of one instance in which a bill had passed both houses of Congress to pension the widow of an ex preacher, who had died two or three years ago of delirium tremens, upon the ground that he had contracted the habit of drinking during the war In the House yesterday Mr. Lee intro duced a bill granting a pension to John J

Thomas. At last night's meeting of the Virginia democratic association of this city Mr. J. R. Fisher, Assistant Postmaster of the House, tendered his resignation as secretary of the association. The nomination of Mr. Morton for Vice President has reminded Mr. Perry Belmont, chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, that that committee was once called upon to investigate the charge that Mr. Morton, when U.S. Minister to France, had used his official position as a means of inducing his government to interfere in the Chili-Peruvian affair in order to secure the payment of certain Peruvian bonds in which he or his friends were interested and that that charge was not disproved. Such a man Mr. Belmont thinks would hardly be a safe one for the Presidency should Mr. Harrison be elected and die.

The House to day, after granting an hour to the bills reported by the Military committee, resumed the consideration of the Mills bill, when Mr. Kelly, republican of Pennsylvania, read the riot act to Mr. Cannon, republican of Illinois, for proposing that the reduction of the tariff on sugar should be compensated by a bounty to the producers

It is understood that the tariff bill which will be passed by the Senate as a substitute for the Mills bill will make a reduction of eighty million in the revenue, chiefly by the reduction of the tariff on sugar and rice, Southern products, the addition of a few articles not produced in this country to the free list, the abolition of the internal reve nue tax on tobacco, and on fruit liquor and on whisky used in the arts. The Mills bill, it is supposed to-day, will be passed by the House before the close of next week. It is not likely it will be detained in the Senate more than ten days, if so long, as the Secators are as anxious to get away from here as anybody else.

Col. Robt. Ingersoll is now here. He says the manufacturers of the North have reached the conclusion that the coming campaign, so far as their interests are con-cerned, is to be for the quick or the dead, and have determined that it shall be the former, and therefore will put up all the money that may be required to make Harrison's election sure, and lay the free trade spirit for at least two decades. He says a correct expression of the feeling in the North cannot be obtained from the newspapers that are read here, and that the republican success will reach the magnitude of a cy-Mr. John Randolph Tucker, when ported above, replied that the Colonel knew no more about politics than he did about religion.

From the 10th Virginia district it is learned to-day that Mr. Harry Tucker, Mr. Anderson and Mr. Berry are those most spoken of in respect of the democratic con gressional nomination in that district, and that Mr. Hubart will contest for the republican nomination with Mr. Yosi, the sitting member. From the 5th district it is learned that all the republicans there are Mahoneites, and that they are as yet uncertain whom declare for as General Mahone has expressed no preference. Colonel Sutherlin seems to be the favorite for the democratic nomination and, it is said, if nominated, will stand a good chance of election, though the district is now represented by a republican. Judge Atkins, who is spoken of as the probable republican candidate in the Richmond district, is said by Richmond people here to be one the least objectionable members of his party in that district, but by no means the strongest, and one of the least to be feared. Representative Bowen, from the 9th Virginia district, in a short talk with the GAZETTE'S correspondent this morning, said he had heard of no opposition to his own renomination by the republicans of his district. There were, he said, several democrats in the district whose names he had heard mentioned in connection with the dem-ocratic nomination, among them ex Congressmen Pridemore, Richmond and Trigg, all of whom, he said, were popular in their party, and each of said, were popular in their party, and each of whom would concentrate their party's vote. Mr. Bowen said that from what he could learn the appointment of Mr. Brady as the Virgi is member of the national republican committee was any thing else than satisfactory to the republicans of

A GREEN CORN DANCE .- At Okeechobee, Fla., the Indians are having the largest green corn dance they have had in twenty years, and representatives of all the tribes are at it. They have a ring around their pole about ten inches deep, made by running around and dancing, and Saturday night, or full moon, is the night they dance all night. It is very interesting to these that never saw it to see the harmony in running around at the pole in the circle, and the men catching in their bags, that are made around a bent stick which has a bow about four inches in diameter, with a cross in the lower side, with the sinew of beast. A party tried to photograph the dance, but they thought it witchery, or something wrong, and would not hear of such a thing.

THE RICHMOND AND DANVILLE TERMI-NAL -The aunouncement that the Richmond and Danville Railroad is to abandon West Point and select Norfolk as its deep-water terminus is not given much credit at West Point, where the line has a water front of two miles, two cotton compresses, the finest docks on the Atlantic coast, costing hundreds of thousands and terminal facilities unsurpassed. At Nortolk it has no docks. necessarily limited terminal facilities and strong competition. The officials of the Richmond and Danville Railroad are also largely interested in real estate in and near West Point. It is reliably stated that instruct one bave been received to shed in at once all the uncovered docks, and a large diately outlay of $65,000 or $75,000.

BAR ASSOCIATION .- The members of the bar of the State who have been in convention assembled at Virginia Beach, have adjourned after forming a Bar Association, with the following officers: Judge Wm. The Notification Committee. New York, July 7 .- The members of the committee to officially notify Levi P. Morton of his nomination for the Vice-Presiden cy were astir early this morning. Judge M. M. Estee, of California, chairman of the committee, was receiving visitors in Murray Hill Hotel at 9 o'clock. Secretary Dougherty worked most of the night and looked wearied this morning. He went to the Grand Central depot at 9 o'clock and when he returned to the committee parlor he found half a dczen delegates awaiting him. As they strolled in Captain Dougherty had each affix his signature to the address which will be presented to Mr. Morton. The docu. ment is very brief and general in its terms, filling less than a single page of parchment paper. Delegates Hendricks, Root and Carson, the colored contingent, did not meet the party at the hotel and were not at the depot when the committee entered the special drawing room car at half past ten o'clock. Ex-Governor Charles Foster, of Onio, did not accompany the committee. The other gentlemen composing the committee all left as well as substitutes from other States. The delegates will return on the four o'clock train this afternoon and the majority will remain in town until Thursday of next week. Chairman Estee will spend next week at Long Branch.

Alleged Dynamite Plot.

AURORA, Ill., July 7 .- The excitement here over the arrest of the engineer in connection with the supposed dynamite plot had somewhat subsided last night when it was renewed by the arrest of Alexander Smith, one of the striking fireman, charged with complicity in the plot. Deputy United States Marshal Burchard had in his posses sion warrants for the arrest of three other persons, but the parties are evidently keep ing out of the way. Superintendent Rice is here. He is quartered in his private car near the depot and is personally superintending the arrest of the supposed dynamiters, When seen he was somewhat reticent and said there was nothing new in the matter that would in any way interest the public. He said, however, that there would be startling developements within a few days. The yards and depot property are thickly patrolled by Pinkerton men and company employees and all strangers are closely look ed after. It is generally thought there that the man Wilson who was arrested Wednesday with Broderick and Bowles, is a Pinkerton detective who joined the Brotherhood with the purpose of getting into their schemes.

At the former place a perfect storm of stones was thrown, battering the side of the engine and breaking more glass. ALEXANDRIA, July 7, 1888

To the editor of the Alexandria Gazette:
The card of the Rives Club in regard to their non-participation in the State regatta would need no answer among boating men, but a reply is no-cessary to show the public that everything was perfectly fair and that their position is entrely untenable.

In regard to who has the right to fix the time and order of the races, the home committee invariably has the right, and does it, as stated by the captain of one of the Washington clubs to-day. It is done by the home committee in Washington, Philadelphia, New York and New Jersey. In the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen the rejury, upon entering upon its duties, took up the matter for investigation and to day
Mr. Kerr was exonerated.

Killed by Falling Lumber.

Willing N. C. July 7—Capt. Wm. themselves has ever offered such objection it is nore than we ever heard of.

So much for the right; now for the reason for fixing the gig race at 3 p. m., which they say was lacking. The Old Dominion crew most respectfully state that they expected to meet the Potomae big four in the open-gig race, and they were considered far more formidable than the Univer-sity crew, and the Old Dominion wanted time to rest after the State gig race at 3, in order to row the Potomacs at 6:30 p. m.

the Potomacs at 6:30 p. m.

As for the hour being unprecedented, this is absurd in view of the fact that every year the races of the National Association begin at 1:30 or 2 p. m., and where there were to be seven races some had to be rowed early, and it seems plain that this was the best arrangement that could be made, as the Old Dominion was the only crew that intended or did row two races

The President and Secretary of the State Association heard Mr. Redwood say it was too het to cistion heard Mr. Redwood say it was too het to row at 3 o'clock; so the report is not false. The University crew were not present and might not have heard it, and it might not have been their reason; but Mr. Redwood, their coxawain and representative, stated it.

We have not one word to say against the Uni-versity crew, but we do object to Mr. Redwood, who is Captain of the L'Hirondelle Boat club in Patience. He has never been a resident of Chin-

Baltimore. He has never been a resident of Chal-lottesville, nor been a student at the University, brovided her majesty accepts the conditions which will be made known to her by Bishop Demeterini, who has taken them to Wiesbaden.

Degree Conferred.

London, July 7.—The University of Dimbridge has conferred the degree of LL.

D. upon the Bishops of Fredericton, New York and Minnesots.

Hanged.

Portland, July 7.—William Landreth was larged yesterday at Dallas, Oregon, for the murles of this step-daughter, Simmie Ellis Antle, in letters we can not consider him a bona fide member of the University crew, and do not consider that he had any right in the Association as a delegate, nor had he a right to be coxswi in in the race, and the representative of the O. D. B. C. only abstained from objecting to him in the Association in order to have largen think that to Mr. Redwood is due the action of the Rives crew. Finally it looks very pusific to object and not to row unless you can have your own way. Be it remembered that the Old Dominious were beaten twice at Fredericksburg. They did not kick or object to anything or any body, but just made up their minds to try it again until they were successful; and they would like to state to their opponents that they prefer rowing them on water and not on paper, and let it be ended when one crew comes in per, and let it be ended when one crew comes in per, and let it be ended when one crew comes in J. F. BLACKWELL.
